Description

DESCRIPTION A stunning Edwardian fine natural old cut diamond bracelet set in 18ct rose gold and Platinum with approximately 5.40ct of diamonds. This is a superior high quality piece. Not reproduction. HALLMARKS Hallmarked and with s serial number, likely a designer piece. French in origin. MEASUREMENTS Natural large transitional cut Diamonds; 5-6mm. The transitional cut diamonds are superb, stunning quality estimated at G-H in colour and VS1. Two have a very small colourless inclusion and therefore at Si2-3. Each large transitional cut diamond measures 0.60-0.65ct spread but these are very deep stones so likely higher. Further rose cut diamonds 1.5-4mm. Total diamond content 5.40ct in situ. Diamond content is estimated based on 0.60ct of each larger diamond and average of 0.03ct of each rose cut- this is a conservative measurement. The diameter of the diamond encrusted bangle head is 62 x 30mm. Bracelet internal measurement when closed 62 x 56mm. The bangle opens via articulation at each side and a snap clasp at the back, very nicely designed. Safety chain on the snap clasp. CONDITION Good condition. Secure clasp, in good working function, signs of wear commensurate o...
