Description

An impressive Georgian style apothecary chest of drawers. Heavy duty and well made this chest is made from mahogany with the drawer structure made from pine. It's a large overall size spanning over a metre wide and with 20 well-made spacious drawers all opening without difficulty. An early 20th century example which has been cleaned up with no faults to report with a super overall condition. Replaced with 20 black ebony handles. A collectable piece and one that would certainly spark conversation! Not only does restoring antiques have a positive environmental impact and great sustainability qualities, we also offer a zero-emission carbon free delivery service in our electric van within a reasonable distance. Please get in contact prior with discussing this option further and all other delivery alternatives.
