Description

We have been fortunate to find a small collection of these ever popular late 19th century Spanish olive pots. Great glazed decoration and aged patina. Their overall condition is also very good with no major issues. These originally were used to store olive oil and would have been kept in families for many years. These now make stunning planters for both inside and out. Heavy in weight as well so wont blow over in a wind even if left un planted. Height 63cm Diameter 53cm
