Description

A magnificent set of ten antique solid mahogany dining chairs in the Chippendale style. They were made in England, and date from around the 1900-1920's period. The quality is outstanding and it is very rare to find a set of ten like this, especially all with arms. They are very sturdy and well made, with finely carved, beautifully pierced backs. They have scrolled arm rests and sit on straight legs with stretchered bases for extra stability. The drop in seats are upholstered in a stunning green leather which have a gorgeous patina, and they have horse hair stuffing. The condition is excellent for their age, they are all nicely polished with a lovely patina, and only some minor wear beneath the polish here and there.
