Description

A good example of a high quality single draw telescope dating from the late 19th / early 20th Century. It is a powerful mahogany clad telescope with brass tube and a sliding eyepiece cover. The telescope is in good condition for its age. It is fully functional with undamaged lenses. The lenses are generally clean and they produce a clear and crisp image. The brass tube has a few small dents and dinks and the mahogany has some minor signs of age and use but nothing detrimental. The best description comes from the photographs so please look at them all carefully and if you have any questions just ask.
