Description

A well made Victorian brass and steel extending toasting fork c1880. The toasting fork extends through three sections ending with the polished steel three pronged fork. The outer sheath is made of profusely decorated brass in a geometric design with a textured background. The two inner lengths are highly polished brass. The fork extends smoothly and has a hanging ring. Due to the decoration this is a quality example. Excellent condition. The fork extends fully to 63cm.
