Description

A lovely example of a small mahogany work table dating from the early to mid 19th Century. It stands on a central column with quatrefoil base and bun feet with castors below. It has a single drawer with its original turned knobs and each corner of the table has small turned finials below. The drawer comes with a working key. The table has a wonderful rich colour and flame mahogany grain. It is beautifully finished on all four sides, making it suitable as a centre table or side table. It is in good condition for its age and displays well. There are some minor signs of age and use, some small marks and knocks and some old surface scratches on the top (see photo) but nothing untoward and it has a lovely patina. It has been gently cleaned and polished and is ready for use. The best description comes from the photographs so please look at them all carefully and if you have any questions just ask.
