Description

A large pine storage cupboard dating from the late 19th / early 20th Century. It has two panelled doors which open to a simple shelved interior. The shelf position can be adjusted and they can be removed entirely. The interior, including the shelves, has been painted a creamy yellow colour at some point in its life. It is a good quality piece and its narrow proportions make it very useful for a variety of purposes. It is in good condition and has an attractive mellow colour. It has been cleaned and lightly polished with a smooth waxed finish, retaining its lovely aged patina. The shelves inside are generally clean and tidy with a few old marks and stains. There are some signs of age and use, some light marks, knocks, small chips and old shrinkage splits but nothing untoward and it displays well. The best description comes from the photographs so please look at them all carefully and if you have any questions just ask. Nationwide delivery available through our network of reliable couriers.
