Description

A fine example of a late nineteenth, early twentieth century quarter chiming mahogany dome top bracket clock by Winterhalder & Hofmeier. The clock has an eight-day triple barrel movement striking both quarters and hours on a range of coiled gongs. The central arched glazed door opens to reveal a matted brass dial with decorative spandrels and silvered Roman numeral chapter ring above which are three subsidiary dials for chime/silent, time regulation and a choice of four or eight gong quarter chimes. The mahogany case has demi-fluted corners, pilasters and brass claw feet with pierced sound frets to each side and encloses a beautifully engineered triple barrel eight-day movement by the quality German maker Winterhalder & Hofmeier. An excellent timekeeper and scarce in this configuration with a wonderful mellow striking tone. Winterhalder & Hofmeier were considered the finest clockmakers in the Victorian era. The company was established in 1810 by Thomas Winterhalder, and was based in southern Germany's Black Forest region. In 1850, relative and clockmaker, Anton Hofmeier, joined the company and Winterhalder & Hofmeier was born. The movements produced by this firm around th...
