Description

A very beautiful pair of Minton figural candlesticks on round bases with moulded scrolls and ornate gilt decoration on a white background decorated with applied flowers and leaves in bright enamel. Both figures are very finely modelled and beautifully decorated in enamel, with incredibly detailed patterns on the garments decorated in bright gilding. The girl is depicted as a flower seller, her apron decorated with individually designed flowers and leaves, and in her left hand she holds a small bouquet. Her male companion holds a basket of flowers and fruit under his arm and a flower in his right hand. Behind the figures are rococo candlesticks, very similar to the Coalport candlesticks, which are also inlaid with flowers and gilded details on a white background, including moulded and decorated ears of wheat. References: Minton Pottery & Porcelain Of The First Period 1793-1850 by Godden, page 104, the figures are fully described and attributed to design No. 192, dated c. 1835-36 and illustrated on plate 146. Also in Atterbury and Butkin's Minton's Dictionary, pp. 51. The height of the figures is 22cm, the diameter of the base is 11cm. Condition is very good: the male fi...
