Description

A massive 17th century Spanish settle constructed from walnut and pine, held together with pegged mortise and tenon joints and big iron nails with decorative iron roundel heads making this settle a very robustly constructed piece of furniture. The settle has fantastic colour and patination and would suit a large hall. It has sustained some wood worm damage, which is to be expected with a piece of this age. However the overall condition is excellent. Seat height 53cm x depth 37cm
