Description

Georgian golden oak dresser This Georgian golden oak dresser was made circa 1800. Originally this would have been made by the estate carpenter to go into one of the more important homes in a country estate. The oak dresser is of a lovely golden honey oak and cross-banded in mahogany. It stands on elegant cabriole legs with pad feet, fitted with 3 cross banded drawers each with the original brass swing handles. These dressers are so versatile and can be used in many places in your home. They just give rooms a special bit of character and stand in the place giving the impression that they have been there for generations. Imagine this Antique oak dresser in your home and the pleasure it will give you.
