Description

Mid C19th Irish carved mahogany 'Gainsborough' library armchair in the mid C18th George II period style. Elegant broad-seated carved mahogany armchair raised on shapely cabriole legs with shell-carved knees, onto carved trefoil pad feet. The shell carved carved rear cabriole legs having an exaggerated swept rake. The back having a serpentine top rail. Outswept arms with leaf-carved detail to the supports, carved detail to the armrests and carved terminals, the base of the arm support having a carved shell motif detail. A well-executed copy of an important mid C18th George II period armchair, constructed in a superior grade of selected Cuban mahogany which has achieved a rich period style colour and patina. In strong, sound condition with no damage, breaks or repairs. Has been stripped to base cover really for re-covering in client's own choice of fabric. H 36" W 24" D 24" Ireland c.1860
