Description

A beautiful and extremely well made antique Victorian inlaid satin wood leather top desk. This was made in England, it dates from around the 1890-1900 period. It is of outstanding quality and is a lovely size. There is an absolutely gorgeous inset tanned leather writing surface, the top also has borders of satin wood and walnut. The drawer fronts have stunning inlaid floral designs, cross banding and high quality brass handles. The quality of craftsmanship is superb, with incredibly fine hand cut dovetailed joints. We have had this recently re-polished, there are a couple of very small historical repairs to some edges, nothing majorly structural. Overall this is in excellent condition for its age.
