Description

A mahogany cutlery tray dating from the early 19th century. It is larger than usual and well made with a nicely shaped handle and two compartments. It has beautifully figured timbers and has developed a lovely rich patina through years of use. It is in good solid order with no major damages. There are some general signs of age and use but nothing detrimental. The best description comes from the photographs so please look at them all carefully and if you have any questions just ask.
