Description

This is a lovely Antique Sterling Silver Cigarette Box from the Edwardian early 1900s. It would be ideal for storing small items in such as jewellery. It would be a great gift. The maker's mark is too worn to read. It was Hallmarked in Chester in 1900. The Hallmarks are on the front of both the base and lid. It's made of Sterling Silver and it has a worn crest and the initials NJ elaborately engraved in the centre of the lid. The lid lifts to show a cedar wood lined base and a gilded interior lid. The base has green felt to prevent it marking surfaces it's placed on. The Silver is shiny. There are a number of dents to the lid and sides and a split to the Silver on one corner of the lid. The hinge works well. There are some scratches including one on the lid which can be seen in the photos. The interior wood lining has some staining. Its total weight is 374g. It measures 10.3cm by 9.2cm (just over 4 inches by 3 1/2 inches). The height is 5.8cm (2 1/4 inches).
