Description

A good example of a large antique copper fish kettle dating from the late 19th century. It is a good quality piece with a rolled rim, two handles and its original lid. It is in good original condition. There are no major damages, splits or holes. There are signs of age and use, some small dents, dinks and surface marks but nothing untoward. It has been cleaned and gently polished and displays well. Approximate Measurements : Height (to top of handles) : 8" (20cm) Width across handles : 16" (41cm) Depth : 8" (20cm) The best description comes from the photographs so please look at them all carefully and if you have any questions just ask.
