Description

A good pair of mid 19th Century cut glass lustres which are in very good condition. We can find no chips or damage. We bought them as a pair and only whilst photographing them did we notice that one is slightly wider than the other, although the same height. This is not at all obvious and they were clearly hand made as a pair. They both have ten drops and are quite fabulous. We can deliver free of charge in UK and can calculate the cost for international delivery. Payment by bank transfer, PayPal or card via telephone.
