Description

This is a very pretty Antique Silver Jewellery or Rings Box from the early 1900s. It's a larger size rings box and it would be perfect for storing small items of jewellery in. It comes in a gift bag and it would be a fantastic and very special present. It was made by well known Silversmiths Mappin & Webb and it was Hallmarked in Birmingham in 1911. The box is made of Sterling Silver and has a very pretty engineered pattern on the lid with a blank circular cartouche in the centre. It stands on three feet. The hinge works well and the lid lifts to show an interior with a blue material lining in the base and a gilded inner lid. The Silver is shiny with a little tarnish. There's a couple of small dints in the lid. One lid is bent more than the others so the box is very slightly lopsided when it is on a surface. One leg has a very small gap at the top where it attaches to the base and the back leg has been repaired although this isn't obvious at all. The material inside is a little worn in places and the material base on the bottom of the box has a small tear. This has been taken into account when pricing. It weighs 155g. It measures 8.2cm diameter (3 1/4 inches). The h...
