Description

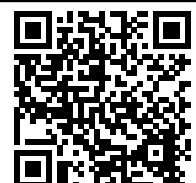

Here we have a beautiful Antique Silver Jewellery Box from the early 1900s. It would be perfect for storing rings, earrings or other smaller jewellery items. It comes in a gift bag and would be a great present. It was made by Hemming and Walton and it was Hallmarked in Birmingham in 1918. The Hallmarks are on the base of the box. The box is a larger size and has four elegant feet. It has shiny Silver sides and CHP elaborately engraved in the centre of the lid. The hinge works well and the lid lifts to show a blue material interior and a gilded inside of the lid. The Silver is shiny with a little tarnish. The Silver on the lid has some scratches in places and a couple of tiny dints which aren't really visible. The lid is a little wavy in shape instead of being flat so it doesn't sit completely flush with the base on one side. The material interior has wear with the blue rope edging detached in some places. It is a beautiful box and would stand out very well on a dressing table or shelf. It weighs 205g. It measures 13.1cm by 7.9cm (5 1/8 inches by 3 1/8 inches). The height is 6cm (2 3/8 inches).
