Description

1930s Lanco stem winding pocket watch. The watch has a Swiss 15-jewel stem-winding movement which is working nicely. The movement is signed Lanco, one of the brand names registered by Langendorf, and it is all protected by an inner hinged cover which has a few scratches from where it has been opened in the past. The watch measures 49mm diameter excluding the winding stem and the loop. The case is chrome plated nickel and has general light surface marking, nothing too serious at all. The watch lens is glass. There is one scratch underneath the lens but difficult to see with the naked eye. The dial has a couple of very faint hairline cracks, only visible through a jeweller's loupe, and a shade of discolouration to the subsidiary seconds dial. The watch comes with a single chain, 38cm long. The watch and chain come in a new presentation box.
