Description

Large framed oil painting on canvas by the celebrated Victorian landscape painter Alfred Augustus Glendening (1840-1921) dated 1903. 42" x 24" canvas featuring a view of the afon Glaslyn in Snowdonia. Below a summer evening sky, the sunlight catching the tops of the mountains, cows stand at the edge of the river in the foreground whilst farm labourers finish stacking hay in the field beyond. Clearly signed and dated in the lower right hand corner. Presented in the original deep moulded and gilded wood and gesso frame. Excellent condition. From working as a London railway clerk Glendening became one of the most popular British landscape artists of his day. As well as scenes of Southern England, the Scottish Highlands and the Lake District, he frequently painted the landscapes of Snowdonia and was a member of the Betws Y Coed artist's colony. Dimensions: Width 55" Height 37" Depth 3½"
