Description

This is a superb late 18th century oil on canvas landscape painting. The colours are wonderfully subtle but the quality of the work gives them an almost glow that lifts the whole painting and are only enhanced further by the original worn gilt frame. Great decorative size and will suit both modern and traditional homes. The condition is original and honest with no major issues, there is slight discolouration but we have cleaned this the best we can and thankfully what remains doesn't take a way from the piece. Height 84cm Width 126cm
