Description

Antique Stephen Smith & Co Maple 9 Drawer Twin Pedestal Desk Please note; Sale is for the desk only, items placed around the table are not included in the sale. A stunning American Maple desk, ideal for any period study or office. We are delighted to offer this beautiful condition Antique American (circa 1860s's) twin pedestal writing desk made from solid Maple, ideal for any period study or office. Made by the well respected Maker Stephen Smith & Co of Boston, America, this desk is made with true craftsmanship and quality bearing the faint but readable makers stencil in the middle drawer. A brief history of the company taken from the university of Michigans archives; For Nearly half a century, Stephen Smith worked as a cabinetmaker in Boston, beginning as a relatively small artisan and building his trade into a substantial firm with 3 partners. Stephen Smith & Co was founded in 1829 having a brisk trade in the manufacture of office and church furniture, cabinetry, clocks and even dealing in stoves (manufactured by his brother in law), going on to specialise in "bank and counting room furniture". At one level, business seems to have dominated Smith's life. The 1865 b...
