Description

Mid-size Bulova wrist watch, 1950. The watch has a signed 21-jewel hand-winding movement which is working nicely. The watch measures 21.5mm wide excluding the winding crown and 29mm high excluding the lugs. The case is 10k gold filled, it is in good condition with just general light surface marks and some small patches of rubbing to the back corners, but nothing too serious at all. The lens has a couple of tiny marks but difficult to see with the naked eye. The signed dial is in its original finish, full of Art Deco style with a quartered pattern and stylised numbers. There is a little marking but not too detrimental. A new leather strap has been fitted. The watch comes in a new presentation box.
