Description

A lovely example of a Victorian Scottish pebble brooch, with a rare design of shining silver circles, incised with a scrolling foliate pattern and inset with polished red and green agates. Scottish jewellery was made popular by Queen Victoria from the mid 1800s when she and Prince Albert frequently visited Scotland and her Scottish castle Balmoral. She loved all things Scottish and spent much time in the Highlands and Cairngorm mountains where these Scottish pebble stones were collected. The piece is in excellent antique condition, with surface wear normal for its age. Size: Approximately 5.2 x 5.2cm when measured as a diamond shape or 4.3 x 4.3cm when measured as a square. Weight: 14.3g.
