Description

A wonderful George IV silver port label, very ornate with shell motifs, vine leaves and grapes. The word 'Port' is pierced in the centre and the label hangs from a heavy gauge belcher chain. Hallmarked to the rear with the London Assay Office mark; the Lion Passant, indicating the finest sterling silver, a partial date letter for 1828 and the makers mark for Edward Edwards II. A fine piece, this will appeal to collectors of Regency silver or for anyone who wishes to add a touch of refinement to their Christmas dinner table. Measurements: Width 5.9 cm Height: 3.8 cm Weight: 25 grams All weights and measurements are approximate.
