Description

A small bronze panther which was discovered on a dig in Eastern Europe. It is calculated to be around 100AD. We are told that these pieces were put into coffins and tombs in the same manner as the ancient Egyptian burial traditions. It is very decorative and we had a small perspex stand made which shows it off. It's a charming little piece which would make a lovely gift. We can deliver free of charge in UK mainland and can calculate the cost for International delivery. Payment by bank transfer, PayPal or card via telephone.
