Description

GILTWOOD SUITE Late 19th-century Louis XV style five-piece salon suite. This exceptional collection comprises a canapé and four fauteils, all exquisitely upholstered in Aubusson tapestry, showcasing the epitome of 19th-century French craftsmanship. Crafted with meticulous attention to detail, this salon suite epitomizes the Louis XV style, known for its graceful curves and intricate ornamentation. Each piece in this collection boasts its large proportions & size. The upholstery of this suite is nothing short of spectacular. It's adorned with Aubusson tapestry in the style of Jean-Baptiste Huet, depicting charming scenes of courting couples and playful animals within intricate foliate cartouches. This rich tapestry not only provides comfort but also serves as a work of art in its own right. The suite includes a canapé, or sofa, as well as four fauteils, or armchairs. This set is ideal for creating a harmonious and inviting living space that harks back to the splendor of the late 19th century. Adorned with intricate giltwood carvings this suite showcases the dedication to detail. The back-rails are masterfully centered by carved acanthus leaves, and the serpentine seats...
