Description

A fine and elegantly proportioned copper coal scuttle. Beautifully seamed and dating to the early 19th Century. With an accompanying shovel and ebonised wooden handles. A wonderful useable piece. The condition is very good overall with no splits or dents. Some wear to the lower handle but it is still reasonably firm. Some discoloration to the shovel as is to be expected and the handle is a little loose. A few minor scratches to the copper. Weight approx 3.8kg Length approx 51cm Height to top of handle approx 43cm Depth approx 28cm
