Description

Magnificent large golden oak bookcase with flared, stepped cornice mounted by carved turned finials on the domed end sections. The inverted breakfront base has four glazed doors (working locks and keys) with applied moulded decorations opening to adjustable shelved interiors, four panelled cupboards below (working locks and keys) with wonderful blind fret details, raised on a plinth base. With marks / scuffs and general wear and tear commensurate with age and use, an historic repair to the cornice and a very small hairline crack to a tiny pane of glass, neither of which are obvious nor detract from the piece itself which is in overall very good, sound condition and really is a wonderful example of skilled craftsmanship, not done justice by the photographs.
