Description

This is a good example of a much-loved piece of early twentieth-century furniture. It has been traditionally restored to a high standard, and as you can see from the images its colour is warm and appealing. Cleverly designed as an easily transportable bookcase, but also ideal for displaying a wide variety of objects. Each section, including its top and base (5 sections in all) is detachable and can be easily repositioned. The oak-framed glazed doors can also be easily removed if needed. The original locks that secure each segment have been serviced, and keys cut to fit. Its copper-plated escutcheons and handles are also original. A practical and attractive piece of antique furniture that instantly brings interest to a room setting. The measurements below are approximate - accurate measurements will be listed tomorrow.
