Description

A lovely antique coopered oak bucket dating from the late 19th century. It is very well made with copper strapping and applied copper handle. A great size for a kindling bucket. It is in good condition and displays well. There are signs of age and use but no major damages and the wood has a wonderful patina. There are some signs of historic worm which has all been treated as a precaution. Approximate Measurements: Height : 12" (30cm) excluding handle Diameter : 13" (33cm) The best description comes from the photographs so please look at them all carefully and if you have any questions just ask.
