Description

Winsor & Newton japanned travelling watercolour set and integral water bottle in the original leather carry case - most unusual. Inside there are 16 china/pottery pallets all in great condition containing some of the original paints which are past their best. Some can be removed easily and I think with the correct cleaning the others can all be loosened and removed. Paint brushes would have been stored in the central well. The leather case is in excellent condition and so unusual to find this. As the case appears to have had little use it is a little difficult to fasten the buckle. Condition of the inside is as per the photographs. L 19 cm W 7.5 cm D 3.3 cm Circa 1920's/1030's
