Description

An attractive Victorian solid silver Christening set, comprising fork and spoon, in the rat tail pattern. Both spoon and fork bear the very clear crisp hallmarks on the back of the handles for the London Assay Office with the date mark for 1892 and Lion Passant indicating the finest sterling silver. The maker's mark is also clearly visible for the silversmith: John Aldwinckle & Thomas Slater. The set comes in the original retailers case, which is a brown leatherette material and inside is decorated with a lovely deep purple velvet pad and cerise satin with the retailers marks stamped in gold 'Mappin & Webb Silversmiths to the Queen London & Sheffield'. This silver set is in superb condition and the case is also lovely, clean and stain free to the interior and great condition to the exterior (some light surface scratching mentioned only for accuracy and commensurate with age). Measurements: Spoon: Length 15.8 cm Fork length 15.8 cm Dimensions of case: 19.5 cm x 8.5 cm x 3 cm Combined weight: 185 grams Weights and measurements are approximate
