Description

We are delighted to offer this fine quality, large & heavy Victorian solid silver grape scissors/shears made in London 1846 with the marks of Francis Higgins. Higgins' wares often feature an ornate, well thought out and intricate design that are slightly a cut above the rest, and this pair is of no exception. The scissors have been cast and as such have a very sturdy heavy weight feel in hand despite its elegantly sleek and long shape. The handles and stem feature intricate chased/stippled acanthus leaves in Rococo-revival fashion. The reverse side is equally matched and embellished - a sign that no costs have been cut in the making of this quality piece. Whilst this pair would make for a wonderful addition to a dining interior decor purely for display purposes, this pair still cuts well and can still be practically used today to opulently separate large bunches of grapes. A delightful and quality piece of Victorian silverware that would grace any table whether for a personal collection or as a unique and stylish present to a lucky individual. A set of English hallmarks are present on the overlapping section of the blades. *Please note: all ima...
