Description

This beautiful and large clock by very good makers is full of character and in superb condition. The substantial, 4 pillar, double fusee movement has an Anchor Recoil escapement with a long pendulum, rectangular plates, rack striking the hours on a rear-mounted bell and a counterpoising weight to the arbored minute wheel. It has a 16" diameter, well-executed, bowed painted iron dial with a lovely cream coloured background. Having a divided outer minute track with triangle hour marks and inner, bold Roman hour numerals. Above centre bears the maker's name of "BARRAUDS, Cornhill, LONDON". The blackened steel hands have a spade end to the hour. The cast brass hinged and locking bezel has a high domed glass fitted. The fine mahogany case has a narrow one-piece bezel surround that sits above the 'drop'. The trunk front has a figured and recessed panel with quarter round moulding that contours the dial surround. It is flanked with narrow shaped ears and is divided from the quarter rounded bottom by a returned moulding. The bottom has a curved locking door that is framed with quarter round, cast brass moulding. The straight sides have upper access doors. Barrauds was founded...
