Description

French late 19th/early 20th Century Copper Bain Marie W: 38cm (15") H: 39cm (15.4") D: 38cm (15") This absolutely delightful and very substantial item of kitchenware is a reflection of social history and perfect for those who are adding to their own personal collection of Kitchenalia. If not used within a culinary setting it is perfect for display or other purposes such as floral displays etc and will make a fantastic statement décor piece. Whatever the ultimate use it is entirely practical and has superb aesthetics to compliment any home. In very much the way French furniture radiates sophistication and elegance this can equally apply to so many other items of French origin such as this delightful item and it really cannot fail to bring that l'art de vivre (the art of living) into our homes.
