Description

Antique French 1890 Louis XV Style Kingwood & Ormolu Guéridon Table H: 74.9cm (29.5") Di: 63.5cm (25") * French 1890 * Kingwood quarter matched veneers (see notes below (1) * Superb quality Ormolu Mounts throughout (see notes below (2)(3) * Cabriole legs with Ormolu sabot-shod feet modelled as a pied-de-biche. * Height : 29.5" 74.93 cm Diameter: 25" 63.5 cm This is a superb French 19th Century Louis XV Style Circular Occasional Guéridon table of free-standing form constructed using Kingwood quarter matched veneers to the top and with the frieze of conforming veneer work and is surmounted with superb quality Ormolu mounts. This very fine table is raised by four elegant swept cabriole legs surmounted with floral ormolu mounts rising from the ormolu sabot-shod feet modelled as a pied-de-biche. The pied-de-biche (deer's/doe's foot) or hoof foot, usually that of a deer, is an early style carved to resemble a realistic animal hoof. It developed along with the cabriole leg with which it usually appears, towards the end of the 17th century and are most characteristic of Régence, William and Mary, early Louis XV and Queen Anne furniture, and they l...
