Description

A good Parisian mantel clock or pendule d'officier with bell strike. These were made from the early 1800s to the late 1800s and this one dates to 1880 and is a little higher quality than the average model. Running for a week on a full wind, and having the symbol of eternity, the snake consuming itself for the handle. The dial on the clock is good, but does have some very faint hairlines. The case is constructed of ormolu and has a glazed rear door. Sold with our 24 month guarantee.
