Description

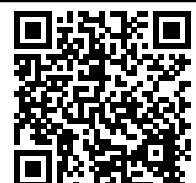

Excellent unrestored Omega Constellation automatic calendar chronometer wristwatch, solid 18ct gold, circa 1961. Good original silver starburst Omega dial, date aperture at 3 O'clock. Marked for Omega throughout, including crystal centre. Black accented raised gilt baton hour markers and Dauphine hands. High grade Cal.561, 24 jewel automatic movement in excellent bright condition. Quiet smooth automatic winding with long run time. Inspected and in good working order. Case back with good unworn Observatory medallion, noting a few very light surface scratches. 34mm case, 18mm between lugs. The case not restored or polished, lightly used condition, still good sharp edges and corners. Very light peppering to the dial, tiny dints to the bezel, light soft marks to the crystal, nothing significant. Great unrestored, original, vintage Omega chronograph watch, to use or collect, very presentable. Not guaranteed waterproof or shock proof. Original Omega outer card box, leather presentation box, chronometer certificate with owner's 1964 warrantee and insurance cert, all in good order. Modern aftermarket leather strap and gilt buckle.
