Description

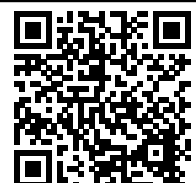

A Delft ceramic polychrome model of a dog sitting on a plinth by Pieter Adriaensz Kocx (1701-1722) and his mark verso showing the letters PAK. It is the most gorgeous early piece and in very good condition, especially for its age with just a couple of little scuffs to the base. Pieter Adriaensz Kocx, who was trained at his father's company, continued to produce objects in the same delicate style as his father. Unfortunately, the happiness was short-lived. Pieter Adriaensz Kocx passed away only two years after he inherited the factory. We can deliver free of charge in UK mainland and can calculate the cost for international delivery.
