Description

This exquisite mid-19th-century oil painting by Danish artist Georg Emil Libert (1820-1908) depicts a beautiful view of Sortedam Lake, Copenhagen. Algae clings to grasses, which protrude through mottled water. While overhanging branches reflect a shimmering likeness, broken by pockets of silver. A figure hurries through the wood. A flash of brilliant white among foliage. Libert's masterful handling renders this leafy vignette with extraordinary attention to detail. Note the variety of carefully observed tones, which provide clear, but subtle, distinction - even when trees overlap. And the majestic treatment of the water's surface with its abundant complexity. A mini-masterpiece by this academy-trained luminary. Signed in the lower right and framed. Medium: Oil on paper laid on canvas Overall size: 22½" x 16" / 58cm x 41cm Year of creation: c. 1860 Labels & Inscriptions: Inscribed with title on reverse. Provenance: Private collection, Denmark. Condition: Artwork presents well. Stretcher bowed but it hangs fine. Frame with some light wear. Artist's auction maximum: £8,565 Georg Emil Libert was an accomplished Danish landscape painter particularly known for his grand na...
