Description

French Art Deco Four Light Ceiling Light signed Degué (David Gueron, 1892 - 1950) A beautiful example of Art Deco design from the 1930s that is signed on the main bowl and all three shades. Gueron was a glass artist and the owner / founder of the Verrerie d'Art Degué factory in Paris that produced many ceiling lights and vases in the 1930s. A wide range of colours can be seen through the glass shades, including blue, white, pink and yellow. The light has been re-wired to EU standards and tested and is in full working order. As with all lighting we would suggest having the light checked and fitted by an approved electrician. The metal has been refinished. The light will be partially dismantled for shipping and the shades will be packed separately. The piece takes one bayonet bulb and three screw-in bulbs (all included). Height (ceiling rose to base of the three smaller shades): 86 cm Diameter (between smaller shades): 64 cm maximum Diameter (main bowl): 36 cm Height (three smaller shades): 13 cm Shipping will be £50 for delivery to an address in England, France, Germany and Italy.
