Description

Originating from South America, this Blue fronted Amazon Parrot was most probably an exotic pet and would have been much prized in Victorian society. Complete under its original glass dome. Very much in the manner of Henry Ward London. Circa 1870. 48.5cm high. For more information on this famous taxidermist, and many others see "A History of British Taxidermy" by C Frost. ----- We are always looking to purchase the finest examples of Taxidermy especially by the likes of Peter Spicer and other great Victorian taxidermists, please contact us if you have anything of interest.
