Description

A delightful and very rare example of 18th Century, Georgian silver tableware. This is a kidney shaped silver label, for a condiment bottle. This example is an 'Escence of Anchovey' label, with both of the major words given an eccentric spelling. In Georgian times cruets were large, impressive structures containing many bottles for various table condiments. The spelling being unusual, is particularly interesting to collectors. Others found are Soy, Ketchup, Cayenne, Lemon and several more. Dimensions below. Postage and packing £8.00 UK £14.00 Europe £16.00 Outside Europe Condition :- Excellent, with no splits, dents or losses. Hallmarks :- Clear and readable. Date :- London 1792. Maker :- Samuel Godbehere & Edward Wigan. Width :- 3.2 cms. Height :- 2 cms.
