Description

Lovely mid Victorian diamond ring with a central star set diamond flanked by two smaller diamonds. The diamonds are set into the band almost flush with the surface with the gold setting cut into a star shape around the central stone and a geometric shapes surrounding the side stones. These shapes and angles on the band cleverly reflect light onto the stones without the design being overstated. A lovely example of Victorian design from the Arts and Crafts period. Hallmarks: Birmingham 1876 18ct gold. In lovely antique condition. : Measurements: Ring Size Q Width across setting: (Shoulder to shoulder): 2.6 cm Width of band at base: 1.5 mm Weight: 2.68 grams. Weights and measurements are approximate.
