Description

Made of solid oak and crafted in the late 19th century, this card and games table features a swivel folding top that doubles in size for added space. Supported by 4 turned reeded legs and porcelain castors, the table also boasts beautifully decorated ebonized inlays for a stunning finish. This table bares all the hallmarks of being a piece by Charles Bevan who was a furniture designer for the likes of Gillows and Lamb of Manchester. The felt top is a possible replacement although not done by myself. When open top becomes 107.5 x 115cm
