Description

Made from a thin Bamboo cane utilising the root ball for the handle, this late 19th Century sword cane has a square section prong type blade, maybe for use as an inspection tool. It also has a cartouche on the handle that looks as though it may have been silver plated at some point in the past. It has a replacement ferrule. A good starting point for a collection. Size: Length - 35.25" (90cm) Blade Length - 21.75" (55cm)
