Description

This stunning 19th century is lavishly hand painted with an exotic bird and flowers on a green ground. The deep curved rim is painted with gilt scrolls, this decoration extends to the surface of the tray and looks particularly good against the green background. There are a few minor marks, (these can be seen on the photographs) and are as would be expected on a household item over 150 years old. This tray, which is a generous size, is ideal for storing or serving drinks and would make a beautiful display feature. c. 1860 code: D1045 Width: 26" 66 cm Depth: 19.75 50 cm
